

Skye grew up in Thirroul on the South Coast of NSW, where she spent her childhood getting lost in books and singing to trees. At the bright, young age of 18, she picked up and moved to Melbourne to train in musical theatre at The Victorian College of The Arts (VCA) in their Foundation Musical Theatre program. At age 20, Skye moved to Perth to study acting at the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts (WAAPA). During her time at WAAPA, she has had the privilege of playing a myriad of roles, such as: Irena in Chekhov's Three Sisters, Lucy Brown in Brecht's The Threepenny Opera, and even the voice of a dating application, Karen, in the futuristic short film You, Me and Karen. Also, Skye is proud of her Israeli heritage, and was thus incredibly honoured to have played Anne Frank in The Diary of Anne Frank in her final year. This year Skye had her professional debut as Crysothemis in Anna Barnes' Minusonesister for Blue Room's Summer Nights.
